OPPORTUNITIES

Armed Forces Day takes place each year on the last Saturday each June, this year it will take place on 27th June. It is a chance to show your support for the men and women who make up the Armed Forces community: from currently serving personnel to Service families, veterans and cadets.

Events marking Armed Forces Day 2026 will take place across the country. Find the events in our area by using this map and scrolling through the list to discover what's happening and when.

The Cadet Forces (Sea Cadets, Volunteer Cadet Corps, Army Cadets, Air Cadets and the Combined Cadet Force) currently number over 135,000 cadets and 25,000 adult volunteers in more than 3,000 locations across the UK. The Cadet Forces provide the opportunity for young people to develop key life and career-building skills, and gain valuable vocational qualifications.

This questionnaire will help you to see what roles are available with the Royal Air Force, matching them to your age, qualifications and interests. You can find out more about life in the RAF here.

If the RAF is of interest to you, you can take part in this online work experience to explore the organisation's purpose, history, people, and the vital role it plays in protecting the UK and supporting operations around the world. Throughout the course, you will discover how the RAF is structured, the wide range of careers and professions within the organisation, and the values that guide its people. You will also gain insight into life in the RAF, including training, career progression, pay and benefits, and the opportunities available through apprenticeships and graduate pathways. Finally, you will explore the Air Cadets and how young people can get involved, develop new skills, and gain experiences that support their future education and careers.

The Army has many different careers available for people wanting to join as a soldier or officer. Explore their roles, and find your perfect Army career. If you're not sure where to start, you can read about their ways to join here.

JOB OF THE WEEK

Military Intelligence Officer

A military intelligence officer is a commissioned leader responsible for analysing information about enemy forces, terrain, and weather to guide military operations. They manage teams of analysts, read data from satellites and human sources, and brief commanders to minimise risks and ensure mission success.

Salaries within the Army are competitive and increase with rank, skill, and specialised trades. Starting pay for Soliders is £27,282, rising to £35,310 for a Lance Corporal and £40,989 for a Corporal.

Officer cadets start at £35,925 per year, moving to £42,948 as a 2nd Lieutenant, £54,716 as a Captain, and £68,624 as a Major Source
