Two boys, aged 12 and 14 groomed on Minecraft by Adam Isaac (23 years) and persuaded to send indecent images on Snapchat and Skype

A man who groomed young boys through the online game Minecraft has been jailed for two years and eight months.

Adam Isaac, 23, from Merthyr Tydfil, previously admitted eight sexual offences against children.

Merthyr Tydfil Crown Court heard he targeted two boys, aged 12 and 14, and asked them to send intimate photos of themselves.

Judge Richard Twinn QC said: "This predatory behaviour is a worry and a concern to parents."

Law enforcement officers have been warning BBC Trending radio about a growing number of social media accounts wrongly purporting to be teen idols like Harry Styles and Justin Bieber, speaking inappropriately to young children.

The growing world of social media apps with big teenage audiences has made the situation even more difficult to police, they say.

Law enforcement have warned about Musical.ly and similar apps accounts pretending to be idols like Harry Styles and Justin Bieber.

"Lots of child sex offenders are utilising Musical.ly to groom children" said Inspector Jon Rouse.
